EXPERT ADVICE OFFERED AT NO COST

We all understand and feel the trauma created from this difficult time for everyone in the club industry.

We want to see our industry return as the thriving community that we all know and love, but unfortunately there may be some clubs that will not.

To assist you through the hibernation, Russell Corporate Advisory is now offering free advice to small to medium sized clubs on the temporary “safe harbour” provisions, where such clubs may not currently be able to pay for this critical advice.

This advice may include assisting you with assessing your club’s cash flow in the coming months and to help you map a path to the resumption of trade, and also to provide advice about whether your plan would satisfy the requirements for protection under the recently amended safe harbour legislation.

Russell Corporate Advisory wishes to acknowledge Campsie RSL which is providing some financial assistance to allow us to offer this service at no cost.

Please see the current article from Greg Russell which has recently been published in the ClubsNSW ClubLife digital magazine.

Further details regarding how the service will be offered together with some limited eligibility criteria will be posted to our website www.russellcorporate.com.au by 5.00pm tomorrow.

If you have interest in receiving this service, please email us confirming your interest.
